Danziger & More

More genetics.

One trusted production network

About Danziger & More

Danziger & More production program was created to give our partners more possibilities through one trusted production partner.
By expanding our production capabilities and working with additional leading breeders, Danziger can now offer a broader portfolio of genetics while maintaining the production standards, reliability, quality, and service our partners already know.

Danziger & More brings together more genetics, more production capabilities, and more flexibility within Danziger's global production network — helping growers, brokers, and rooting stations simplify sourcing and access a wider range of solutions from one reliable partner.

Alternanthera

westhoff

Annuals (perennial in zones 9-11)

FANCIFILLERS Choco Chili

This very heat tolerant dark purple foliage combines well with almost anything for summertime combination containers and baskets. The foliage is a nearly black-purple on top and a bright ruby on the bottom giving a multi-dimensional look. The vigorous upright, spreading habit arches over the edge of the containers and mingles well with other annuals.

The plants are naturally compact with outstanding branching and will not require growth regulators in production. The plants are incredibly heat tolerant and will make fantastic garden plants in the south. Foliage color is darkest under full sun conditions.

- Height: 8 to 12"
- Spacing: 12 to 18"
- Seasons: Spring, Summer, Autumn
- Colors: No colors listed.

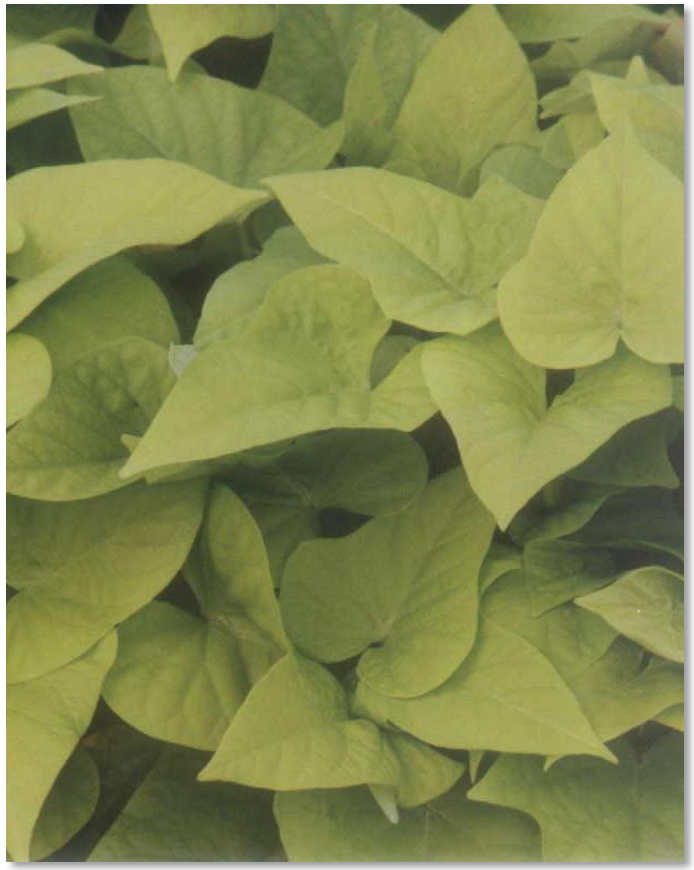
Foliage: Bright, heart-shaped yellowish-green leaves. Turns golden in full sun and lighter green in partial shade.



Growth Habit: Trailing/spiller plant. Highly energetic and spreading.
Size: Reaches 20–30 cm in height; spreads 1.2 to 2 meters wide.
Blooms: Rarely produces small white or pale lavender flowers; grown mainly for foliage.
Conditions Light: Full sun to partial shade. More sun intensifies the bright yellow color.
Water: Moderate and regular. Needs well-drained, moist soil; cannot tolerate waterlogging.
Climate: Frost-sensitive.
Functions as a perennial in Mediterranean climates, though it may die back in winter and bounce back in spring.

Lysimachia

OPEN VARIETY

Lysimachia with golden foliage, most commonly known as Golden Creeping Jenny (Lysimachia nummularia 'Aurea'), is a popular, low-growing annual plant celebrated for its vibrant chartreuse to brassy-gold leaves. It functions excellently as a colorful ground cover, a "spiller" trailing down hanging baskets, or a marginal plant along pond edges.

Lysimachia nummularia 'Aurea' (Golden Creeping Jenny):Features small, coin-like rounded golden leaves.
Produces bright yellow cup-shaped flowers from early to mid-summer.
Reaches 3–6 inches (7–15 cm) in height and spreads dynamically up to 18 inches (45 cm) or more

Plectranthus coleoides

OPEN VARIETY

Plectranthus coleoides 'Variegata' (commonly known as Variegated Swedish Ivy or Candlestick Vine) is a popular, fast-growing tropical perennial prized for its cascading, scalloped green leaves edged in creamy white Appearance: Features fuzzy, scalloped, medium-green leaves with highly contrasting white or cream margins.

Growth Habit: Trailing and spreading, making it a perfect "spiller" plant for hanging baskets, window boxes, and mixed patio containers.
Fragrance: The foliage releases a highly aromatic, spicy, or incense-like scent when crushed or touched.
Pest Resistance: The strong scent naturally repels deer, rabbits, and mosquitoes.
Flowers: Produces small, non-decorative white or pale purple flower spikes in late summer, though it is grown primarily for its foliage

Foliage

Streptocarpus Saxarum

OPEN VARIETY

Streptocarpus saxorum (also known as the "False African Violet" or Cape Primrose) is an evergreen perennial plant in Africa.
The plant belongs to the Gesneriaceae family, similar to the familiar African Violet.
It is native to mountainous and rocky regions in Kenya and Tanzania.
It features a trailing and cascading growth habit, fleshy and hairy leaves, and abundant flowering.

Key Characteristics Appearance and Growth: Flexible stems that become woody over time. The plant reaches a height of about 20 cm and is highly suitable for hanging baskets.
Leaves: Small, fleshy, dark green, and covered with fine hairs that give them a velvety texture.
Flowers: Tubular flowers in shades of delicate blue-purple or lilac, with a white throat, borne on thin stems above the foliage.
Blooming Season: Flowers throughout most of the year, especially from spring to autumn.

Begonia Rex Dibs / Citizen

Dibs® Begonia Rex is the high-vigor, fast finishing series in GreenFuse's Rex begonia program, selected for larger plants, massive foliage, and stronger garden performance than traditional Rex types. Its aggressive branching and quick crop timing make it well-suited for 6" pots up to larger premium containers, where bold leaf color and scale are the selling points.
Use Dibs when the goal is a statement foliage item for indoor programs, shaded patios, and high-impact combinations rather than a compact specialty Rex.

Citizen Cane® Begonia brings dramatic cane begonia foliage and flower appeal to a more controlled, production-friendly series suited for premium indoor and patio programs.
Unlike traditional cane begonias that can become tall and unruly, Citizen Cane is bred for improved branching, fuller habits, and better container presentation while maintaining the bold spotted foliage and pendulous blooms consumers love.
Excellent performance in bright interiors, shaded patios, and mixed tropical combinations makes the series a versatile option for upscale foliage programs.

Lavender Stoechas Lavish / New Madrid

Lavish® Lavender was bred for premium flower presentation, producing exceptionally large, dense flower heads with rich color and strong fragrance. The series creates a fuller, more finished look at retail, making it ideal for patio containers, gift programs, and high value flowering lavender sales. As a First Light® Perennial, Lavish flowers in its first year without vernalization, allowing growers to schedule colorful lavender crops alongside annual programs while delivering excellent pollinator appeal and garden performance.

New Madrid® Lavender was developed specifically to improve heat and humidity tolerance, addressing one of the biggest limitations of traditional lavender production in challenging climates. The series maintains a compact, well-branched habit and consistent flowering even in regions where conventional lavender struggles. First-year flowering, strong uniformity, and dependable garden performance make New Madrid an excellent choice for growers targeting southern and mid-Atlantic markets, as well as retailers seeking a more reliable lavender for consumers in hot, humid environments.

Leucanthemum

The original daylength-neutral Angel type, built for reliable quart-to-gallon production and continuous spring-through-summer flowering. A strong standard for growers needing programmable Shasta daisy color without cooling.

The compact, small-flowered option in the collection, ideal for quarts, gallons, combinations, and early retail sales. Its short habit and continuous flowering make it easy to schedule and merchandise.

Double Angel Daisy® matches the habit and timing of Angel Daisy® but adds fully double flowers for a higher-value presentation. It gives growers the same production reliability with a more distinctive finished look.

Kilimanjaro® is GreenFuse's largest-flowering Shasta daisy, bred for huge blooms, thick durable petals, and an aggressive habit that quickly fills large containers. This is the statement variety for premium patio and landscape programs.

Whisker White reinvents the "crazy daisy" type with massive 5–6" flowers, daylength neutral flowering, and no cooling requirement. It gives growers novelty flower form with far easier scheduling than traditional specialty Shastas.

White Mountain® is the flagship workhorse of the GreenFuse Leucanthemum program, with large blooms, stout plants, and broad container flexibility. Its daylength-neutral flowering allows programming from early spring into fall.
